ACADEMY FOUNDATION
SECOND CENTURY FUN-RAISER

AT NAVY PIER
Monday, October 23, 2017
Welcome to the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation FUN-raiser, formerly known as the Gala!

This year we are celebrating the Academy’s 100-year anniversary and we’ve put a new twist on the format, celebrating this huge milestone at an iconic Chicago landmark, Navy Pier! It’s a great opportunity to meet so many colleagues whose lives were touched by the Foundation. Hundreds of members each year receive scholarships, awards, fellowships, and research grants through the Foundation…members of all ages, backgrounds and skill sets. Thousands more participate in our public education programs like Kids Eat Right and Future of Food, utilizing Foundation resources to take these programs into their communities.

I’m excited for the opportunity to spend this evening with you, celebrating the legacy of the Academy and our Foundation, and I’m especially grateful to our donors, whose generosity helps continue that legacy. Our Foundation is the only charitable organization devoted exclusively to promoting nutrition and dietetics. Although affiliated with the Academy, the Foundation is an independent 501(c)(3) public charity and does not receive any portion of member dues. The success and impact of our programs and services are directly attributed to the generous support of our donors.

If you haven’t done so already, please stop by our Foundation booth located within the Academy Avenue – Central Concourse, Level 3 of McCormick Place West, and support our Second Century Campaign with a donation. It’s your chance to make an impact on our bold new future, with dietitians and dietetic technicians leading the charge world-wide.

Thank you to everyone who has helped make this year a success. I look forward to seeing you at Navy Pier!

Sincerely,

Martin M. Yadrick, MS, MBI, RDN, FAND

Planned Giving

Four Easy Giving Alternatives

A gift to the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation is one of the most important and fulfilling ways you can promote dietetics. Planned gifts can help accomplish your personal financial goals as well as the Foundation’s goal to fund the future of the dietetics profession through research and education.

1. Consider gifts of stocks, bonds or securities. Benefits of these non-cash options may include a tax deduction and a reduction or avoidance of capital gains tax.

2. Name the Academy Foundation as a beneficiary if you have more life insurance than your family needs, or consider taking out a new policy with the Academy Foundation as the beneficiary.

3. Contribute tax-free dollars for use at a later date through a retirement plan. Distribution from retirement funds are taxed but can provide tax advantages.

4. Designate the Academy Foundation as a beneficiary in your will. This is an opportunity to support your profession while costing you nothing during your lifetime.

For more information about Planned Giving opportunities at the Academy Foundation, contact Susie Burns at 800/877-1600, ext 4752 or sburns@eatright.org.

Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation strongly advocates consulting your legal and financial counsel when making estate plans.

“Where do you see the profession in the next 10 years?”

In celebration of our Second Century, The Foundation invited our Board Chair and donors to reflect on our profession’s future; here’s what they said:

Martin M. Yadrick, MS, MBI, RDN, FAND

“I see us using informatics in practice even more than we do now – increased use of mobile technologies, telenutrition, and remote monitoring, with full interoperability between electronic health record systems.”

Neva Cochran, MS, RDN, LD, FAND

“Innovations in clinical practice, technology, media, the Internet and food production and technology will provide new and expanded roles for RDNs and DTRs in promoting accurate information in the media, developing new food products to increase enjoyment of eating nutrient-rich food, working with agriculture to produce and promote healthy food, creating designer diets to meet individual nutrition needs for patients in the hospital and community and harnessing technology to advance health and wellness through optimal nutrition.”
“Where do you see the profession in the next 10 years?”

In celebration of our Second Century, The Foundation invited our Board Chair and donors to reflect on our profession’s future; here’s what they said:

Sonja Connor, MS, RDN, LD, FAND

“My recent contribution to the Foundation is because of my excitement about The Second Century Initiative that will take the Academy and our profession to new heights. This is our opportunity to make a significant impact on the future of our profession, a future that will expand our reach and do so much to improve nutrition and health globally.”

Susan Finn, PhD, RDN, FAND

“Where will we be in the next 10 years? I can sum it up in three words: higher, deeper and broader. We must elevate our professional profile, increase our depth of knowledge in all aspects of food and nutrition science, and seek opportunities to extend our influence by partnering with like-minded organizations. This is our path to recognition as leaders in global health and trailblazers in solving nutrition challenges worldwide.”
“Where do you see the profession in the next 10 years?”

In celebration of our Second Century, The Foundation invited our Board Chair and donors to reflect on our profession’s future; here’s what they said:

Jean Grant, MA

“This the beginning of the 21st Century. With the advances in communication and the incorporation of social media into all of our lives, Nutritionists and Dietitians are able to bring the best information on eating both nutritious and delicious food while improving health with every bite. Why, even the occasional splurge on pumpkin pie brings happiness which improves one’s sense of wellbeing.”

Dianne Heller, MMSC, RDN, LD, FAND

“Due to the many innovative projects being supported through the Academy and Academy Foundation I see our RDN’s and NDTR’s bringing our vision alive…providing the LEADERSHIP necessary to see a world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition!!!”
“Where do you see the profession in the next 10 years?”

In celebration of our Second Century, The Foundation invited our Board Chair and donors to reflect on our profession’s future; here’s what they said:

Mary Abott Hess, LHD, MS, RDN, LDN, FAND

“My crystal ball may be a bit rosy but I see the profession being much more visible in supporting food programs that serve vulnerable populations - children, elderly and those with limited resources. A renewed focus on providing healthful food to all can be achieved by increasing collaborations and advocacy.”

Susan Laramee, MS, RDN, FADA, FAND

“Leading the communities they serve in the delivery of cutting-edge food and nutrition programs to support improved health and quality of life.”

More so now than ever before, The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation is focused on innovation.

"Imagine a world where agricultural systems at all scales are optimized to produce nutrient-dense and delicious foods, using methods that protect precious soil, water, and air resources and are resilient to climate change and water scarcity. A world where food waste has been designed out of the system and where food access for all is a fundamental priority, where special attention to the needs of adolescent girls, pregnant and lactating women, infants, and children has eliminated stunting and wasting and enabled whole generations to achieve their full potential as citizens. A world where advances in social science and behavior change, combined with new technology platforms and innovative wellness programs, have turned the tide on obesity and the preventable health problems it drives. Where a customized, patient-focused, prevention-based health care system—with food and nutrition at its core—has reduced health care costs and improved quality of life for billions of people."

Together, we are working towards a better future.

First Recipient, The Venesa Strong Scholarship

“I am humbled to receive this scholarship in honor of Venesa W. Strong. She has left behind a legacy of leadership, compassion, and improving people’s lives through nutrition. I hope to carry on this legacy by dedicating myself to lifelong service as an RDN in the behavioral health and nutrition fields. By gaining higher education in either clinical psychology or psychiatry, I hope to become a leader in bridging the gap between the two disciplines.”

To all the generous donors to our scholarship program, you are fueling the education of our Second Century RDNs –

Thank you!

To learn more about Foundation scholarships or to donate to the Foundation, please visit www.eatright.org/foundation
The purpose of the Venesa Strong Scholarship is to provide financial support to a dietetic intern as he/she completes the supervised practice experience. As many students already carry debt from their undergraduate coursework, this scholarship provides truly invaluable support to help ease the financial burden of becoming a Registered Dietitian Nutritionist.

The Foundation is truly thankful to Lester Strong for his generous support by establishing this scholarship in Venesa’s memory.

“The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation has helped to keep the memory of my loving wife alive forever, to support the profession that Venesa loved so much… My hope for the scholarship is that the winners of the scholarship award will carry on Venesa’s work and support of the nutrition profession and her legacy.”

– Lester Strong, in honor of his late wife, Venesa Strong
Many people struggle to identify and consume thoughtful portions so it’s easy to see how calorie intake, portion sizes and obesity rates have increased simultaneously in the U.S. While individuals may recognize the importance of eating healthfully, they’re faced with the difficult task of navigating an environment that promotes food quantity over food quality.¹

Join the conversation at #thoughtfulportion and tell us how you can help inspire healthy portion size behaviors.

The Academy Foundation understands the value of research conducted by registered dietitian nutritionists and its importance in helping the profession move forward. The Foundation’s research goal is to provide consumers with the most relevant and accurate food and nutrition information and bring more RDNs to the forefront of nutrition education. Over the past year, the Foundation funded research through fellowships, named research grants and through the Food & Nutrition Research endowment.

Foundation research support includes:

- Named research funds focused on renal disease, foodservice management, obesity prevention, pediatric nutrition, oral health, outcomes research in diabetes medical nutrition therapy, laboratory or clinical research related to nutrition support, older adults, neurological disorders, nutritional epidemiology and vegetarian nutrition.
- Evidence Analysis Projects.

“As a registered dietitian, I am very proud of being a member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. I am currently pursuing my doctoral degree in Nutritional Sciences at the University of Texas at Austin. This research grant will significantly help reduce my financial burdens as I continue pursuing my education and conduct research examining “the behavioral, environmental, and policy factors influencing childhood obesity”. This support has encouraged me to keep moving forward with my endeavors. Thank you again for your generosity and selecting me as the 2017 Jean Hankin Nutritional Epidemiology Research Grant winner!”
